A FEW DON'TS.

Don't talk about the prize you'll win, or how you will pursue it, for boasts are like the clank of tin; don't talk-get down and do it. Don't say you'll cut the habits out, that make your friends uneasy; just turn your conduct face about-for talk is cheap and wheezy. About your seedy clothes don't talk, and say you'll soon be tony; go get the sort of duds that knock-for promises are phoney. Don't make some wild and foolish break and then beg people's pardon; such conduct makes them fairly ache to plant you in the garden. Don't try to tell a funny tale to friends who may be busy, or they will say you'd be in jail if peelers were not dizzy. Don't talk about your own concerns to one who's in a hurry; he doesn't care three tinkers' derns about your woe and worry. Don't blow a damp, hang-over breath into your neighbors' faces, or they will wish that Colonel Death would take you where his place is. Don't talk, unless the thing you'd say is truly worth the trouble; for work's the stuff that puts up hay, and talk is but a bubble.

SWINDLER'S WIFE GAVE POLICE TIP

Mrs. "Knowlson" Revealed Her Husband's Identity.

INCIDENT IN BOSTON CHASE

Following Visit of Washington Detective to Home in Brookline, Wife of Swindler Unwittingly Betrays "Knowlson" and His Arrest Is Accomplished Within Few Days.

That the arrest of "Lieut. Commander Henry Knowlson, U. S. N." the master crook arrested in Baltimore in the guise of a priest and who is wanted in several titles for a series of daring swindles, was due directly to his young wife, came to light yesterday with other facts hitherto adroitly concealed. The wife's betrayal of her husband was unconscious, and she did not know she had divulged his secrets until after his arrest.

It was at her home, 67 Perry street, Brookline, Mass., that the wife uttered the words which eventually terminated the sensational career of her fugitive husband. She spoke at a time when the police were at their wits' ends, with no prospect of capturing the bogus check manipulator or even picking up his trail. He had outwitted detectives at every turn, and even his identity was unknown

After passing worthless checks aggregating $3,550 on a Washington banker and a jeweler, "Knowlson," with his wife and four children, left Washington and took up their residence in Brookline. The Boston police received information that a man who had been posing as a United States food inspector was living at 67 states food inspector was living at 67 Perry street, and he was suspected of leing the man who posed as a navai offi-

On he night of November 9 Mr. Parris, Deective Prati, and Inspector Farrell, of Boston, went to the house in Perry street. 'Knowlson," who was living there under the name of Paul West, was at home with his wife. He had shaven his mustache and Mr. Parris was not certain that "Mr. West" was "Lieut. Commander

Natl him quick." Pratt told Mr. Parris and Inspector Farrell what had transpired over the telephone and the three returned at once to the Perry street house. The

The house was searched, but "Knowlcould not be found. WASHINGTON HERALD GUESTS

Entertainment Will Be Furnished by Employes of Bureau of Engraving and Printing - Children from Washington Asylum to Be in Charge of Mrs. Squires.

Thanksgiving Day's pleasures for 150 hildren of the Washington Orphan Asyim will not end with the customary lemolition of "turkeys and fixin's" so eagerly anticipated by the youngsters.

Just as soon as the last piece of pumpkin ple has gone the way of all Thanksgiving edibles, the youngsters are going o see a show. It's going to be a minstrel show, given by the plate printers of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, and the kiddles are going to be in the audience as guests of The Washington Herald. Mrs. M. &L. Squires, superintendent of the asylum, accepted The Herald's invitation on behalf of her huge "family," and the youngsters are overjoyed at the prospect of a double treat.

When the news was spread about the asylum last night that there was going to be a "theater party" after the big Thanksgiving dinner, the joy of the or-phaned children was complete. Mrs. quires will have her charges ready in their Sunday best at 1:45 o'clock Thursday afternoon, and they will march to Odd Fellows' Hall, 423 Seventh street, where the performance will be given half an hour later.

Mrs. Squires Happy.

Mrs. Squires was an happy as any of ner wards at the thought of the enjoyment the youngsters will have at a real show. Thanksgiving is always a big, happy day at the asylum. Thanksgiving Day this year, with a ticket for a minstrel show at every youngster's dinner plate, will be the rarest of treats.

At Odd Fellows' Hall a special section in the center of the hall will be reserved for the orphans. They will be in charge of several nurses, who will go along to see that each one is happy-and incidentally to see that none gets lost, Chairman Frank Shelpp, assisted by Secretary Nathan Williams and Treasurer Julius Carow, will also look out for the kiddles at the hall.

Programme for Show. The programme, which will be repeated

ELOFEMENT CALLED OFF.

Police and District Laws Bar Young Virginia Couple.

Although the police and the laws of the District prevented the marriage of Minnie Clark and Marion Knick, after their elopement from Collierstown, Va., to Washington yesterday afternoon, the couple will be wedded to-day.

Miss Clark, who is only seventeen years old, believed that her father, John Clark, objected to the match, and she and Knick, who is twenty-three years old, boarded a train and came to Washington, believing they could be married without difficulty here.

When they left the train at Union Station, Policeman John E. Sears, of the Sixth precinct, took the girl in custody as a fugitive from her parents. Miss Clark and Knick told the policeman the story of their romance, and the girl was Max. Min. 8 p. m. fall. the Travelers' Aid Society.

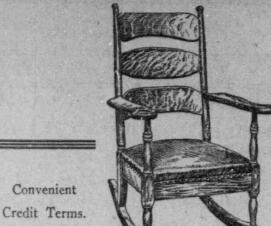

Miss Clark spent the night with Miss Miner at the Methodist Deaconess Home, and Knick stayed with Policeman Edward Horn, at his home, 25 C street northeast. Knick and Miss Clark will leave Washington this morning at 9 o'clock for Lexington, Va., where they will be met by John Clark and married.

GIVES FAREWELL RECEPTION.

Mrs. Haines Will Leave Soon for Round World Trip. Prior to her departure on a three years trip around the world, Mrs. E. A. Haines gave a reception to her friends last night in the ball room at Rauschers. Mrs. Haines was assisted in receiving by her three daughters, Mrs. Herbert C. Sanford, of Knoxville, Tenn.; Mrs. Willard S. Isham, of this city, and by Mrs. Mahlom Haines, of York, Pa.; Mrs. Franklin Bristol, Mrs. John Reid Shannon, Mrs. Anderson Lacey, Mrs. C. M. Forrest, Mrs. 6.02 Grace D. Woodburn, Mrs. Angus La-1.98 mond, and Miss Lamond.

Mrs. Haines will leave shortly, going first to California, and if the revolution in Mexico has subsided by that time, she spend a while in that country. She will then go to the Isle of Pines for a prolonged visit before making a complete circuit of the globe. She has not yet made up her mind whether she will live in Washington upon her return or make her home with one of her daughters. Mrs. Haines has been a resident of this city for twenty-six years, and has made her home at 50 Seward square southeast.
